My character as a racer is well established; I won the colt's purse at Bladensburg of twenty guineas; I won a fifty guinea purse at Baltimore, a fifty guinea purse at Annapolis and a fifty guinea purse at Hagerstown. I never lost a race but the last I run at Alexandria, which was owning to my being badly shod, as I lost all my plates before I got in. Foreign Intelligence.

LONDON, December 15.

Letters were received at the India-House, by an express messenger, dated Constantinople, 17th November, and Vienna, 3d December; the former states that Buonaparte was killed in an action with the combined forces of Egypt, and the Pacha of Acri—the latter, and which is believed to be the authentic account, states, that Buonaparte, and his principal officers, were killed in the Town House in Cairo, whilst he was giving orders for levying a new contribution, and that the army was afterwards dispersed with great slaughter.

These statements, we understand, were communicated to Sir Morton Eden by Baron Thugot at Vienna, to whom they had been sent by the Imperial Minister at Constantinople.

The above intelligence, immediately on its arrival, was communicated to the gentlemen of Lloyd's Coffee-house.

Some new reports prevail on the subject of another counter-revolutionary attempt which has been made in Holland, with more success than that which caused the late arrests; but we have not been able to ascertain through what channel it has been received.—The rumour is, that one of the garrisons on the southern frontier has revolted, and hoisted the orange cockade.

Private letters from Belgium received by the last Hamburgh mail, state, that the contest between the French and the Insurgents, is carried on with a bitterness that, for the honour of humanity, is not very frequent. The French having had recourse to their old method of the fusilade, or shooting those whom the chance of war threw into their power, the insurgents revenged the murder of 300 of their comrades who had been put to death in this manner, by drawing forth 500 French prisoners, who were shot in retaliation.

There are supposed to be two libraries in the Seraglio; and there is reason to think they contain many Latin, Greek, and Oriental manuscripts. Europe, at different times, has been flattered with the hope of discovering in them the original Gospel of St. Mathew, all the Decades of Livy, and all the books of Diodorus Siculus. It is said that Lewis XIV. offered the Porte 200,000 crowns for leave to examine those libraries, and take from them any books he thought proper. As we are now becoming friends and allies to the Turks, our Ministry might easily obtain leave for some of our men of learning to examine the libraries of the Seraglio: what an acquisition it would prove to literature! and something good might be obtained from war itself.

On Wednesday morning an unwelcome visitor made its appearance, for that time only, on the Tower rampart. It was no less than a Royal Tiger brought home in an Indiaman, which having burst open its cage, stalked majestically to the disquietude of the gaping sentinels. The alarm was given, and a bullet soon laid low the noble beast. It is said to have been the finest creature of the kind ever seen in this country.

December 19.

It was yesterday strongly rumored, on the authority of a private account, said to have been brought by a ship, arrived within these few days from Embden, that the King of Prussia has finally declared himself a party of the New Coalition forming against France.

It is understood that the insurrection in the Netherlands still rages with considerable violence, as also that disturbances have broken out in Alsace, and in several places in the South.

Monday some dispatches were received at the Secretary of State's Office, Whitehall, from Jersey. Nothing material occurs in that quarter.—The French seem perfectly quiet on the opposite coast, in the district of St. Maloes, &c.

We are informed, by a private letter from Copenhagen, of the 4th inst. that the French schooner privateer called Barras, has carried into Fleckeroe, in Norway, several English ships bound from Liverpool to the Baltic; and a French privateer having arrived in the port of Stavanger, the crew came on shore, entered the houses of the inhabitants, and attempted to levy contributions. On the latter refusing to pay them, the French took to arms, and wounded several persons. The inhabitants having joined in sufficient numbers, the captain as well as the crew of the privateer, were ordered by the Governor to be put in irons, and the ship unrigged. His Danish Majesty has not only fully ratified these proceedings, but also ordered the offenders to be tried and punished according to law.

A CROWDED THEATRE!—A few nights ago Drury-lane pit had, at the rising of the curtain, an audience of nineteen persons; there were however more than double that number at half price!

A Tragedy from a gentleman of the Church named Whalley, one of the early friends of Mrs. Siddons, is expected to be brought forward at Drury-Lane Theatre. This piece is to be followed by another Tragedy from the pen of Mr. Pratt.

December 20.

By the information of a person who came over in the last cartel from France we learn, that the account of Buonaparte's death had reached that country, where it was generally believed; though the Directory were at great pains to suppress the intelligence, or to cause it to be discredited.

Crim. Can.—Yesterday a cause which has lately much interested the fashionable world, came on (by default) before the Sheriff's Court, when a verdict was pronounced against Capt. C—— for 10,000l. damages. These are the largest damages that ever were given in a similar case in this court. The duke of Leeds, lord Mulgrave, and several other respectable witnesses attended to prove the apparent domestic harmony between the parties.

There is no truth whatever in the report of Mr. Tierney having got an appointment in India.

It has become the practice of the Opposition Papers to give the names of those who divide against the Income Bill. There is one satisfaction—the list takes up very little room.

The statement that count Zenobio had been permitted to return to England is very incorrect. The fact is, that the count having made application through some very respectable channels to pass through England for the purpose of embarking at Falmouth on his way to Disbon, he was permitted so to do, only on the express condition that he should repair to Falmouth from Yarmouth where he landed, with as little delay as possible. He was not even permitted to pass through London.

It is not a little curious that any of the remains of opposition should attempt to prevent a bill from taking place which is intended only to permit the executive power to avail itself of voluntary offers of military assistance. If the bill were compulsory, objections would be reasonable and constitutional; but, as the case stands, to oppose such a measure is to check the ardor of patriotism and to expose the empire to danger.

Charles Fox apologizes for not-attendance in parliament, by alledging that he is represented by a relation who speaks all he thinks.

Every part of Europe is in arms against France, and a general war is now considered as inevitable, or a peace as general; the Great Nation, it appears, being now disposed to lure even England back into the toils of negotiation.—[See Extracts.

The Right Hon. Thomas Grenville left town yesterday (and not before) on his mission to the Court of Berlin. Messrs. Shaw and Malon set off this day to take their passage in the packet for Hamburgh.

Government, it is said, are in possession of fresh intelligence from Paris, where commotions of the most serious nature are expected. Private accounts from Paris mention, that three of the Directors of France have expressed themselves rather warmly against two of their body, as being somewhat inclined to the revival of monarchy.

That Buonaparte has perished either by sword or pistol, a very general belief obtains in the higher political circles, notwithstanding no mention of the fact is made in the London Gazette. It will be remembered, that though the intelligence of the battle of the Nile was announced correctly by Sir Morton Eden some time before the receipt of Admiral Nelson's dispatches, it was not noticed by government till these arrived.

By letters from Yarmouth, it appears that the Fox cutter has brought intelligence that four sail of Dutch men of war had sailed from Helvoetsluys, and were endeavoring either to join the fleet in the Texel, or to go round to Brest. The fleet in the Texel were also getting into the outer roads. There was such a heavy sea on Thursday at Yarmouth, that the English fleet could not get out.

Letters from Corfu state, that when the Leander struck to La Genereux, upwards of 180 of the officers and seamen were wounded. The surgeon of the Leander and his mates took so much pains, that every wound of those men who were obliged to undergo amputations, was perfectly granulated and healthy; yet when they came to Corfu, the French captain would not suffer the British surgeon and mates to attend them, in consequence of which several brave seamen died of mortifications in their limbs.

Report now says, that the notorious Jean Bon St. Andre, whom our readers will recollect as having been the commissioner of Robespierre on board the fleet which engaged Lord Howe, on the glorious 1st of June, and who, on his return to Paris, congratulated the committee of public safety on the triumph of that day, having behaved with great violence in his captivity, the Turkish government ordered him to receive the bastinadoe, and has sent him to keep company with the galley slaves.

Six very large gun boats, on an improved principle, are just finished in the river; from whence they are, as soon as possible to be completed and navigated down to the Nore, to wait further orders as to their future destination. Two new bombs are also in a state of readiness to join the fleet at the Nore, or North Sea, as occasion may require.

PLYMOUTH, December 17.

Arrived a Spanish schooner privateer, of six guns, captured by the St. Florenzo frigate, of 38 guns, capt. Sir H. Neale, Bart. who put a midshipman (a lad of about 16 years of age, on board as prize-master) with a sufficient number of men to navigate the vessel to port: on her passage off Ushant, she gave chace to and came up with a French cutter privateer, at which she fired two shots, and the latter hauled down her colors, but not having men sufficient on board the schooner to man both vessels, the midshipman ordered the cutter to keep within gun shot, and steer the same course with him, which she did, and arrived here with the schooner. This circumstance which reflects much credit on the midshipman, it is hoped will not pass without being rewarded.

DUBLIN, December 9.

INSURRECTION IN THE NETHERLANDS.

We have before had occasion to lament, that the brave people of Brabant, struggling for the recovery of their ancient liberties, should, like the Swiss, in the defence of theirs, remain unsupported by those whose interest is so intimately connected with their success.—Without assistance, it would be vain to expect that peasants without arms and knowledge of war, should conquer troops of the line, completely armed and inured to all the dangers of war, and hardened against every sentiment of humanity. Placed between two chains of fortresses, sequestered from the whole world by the sea and the Rhine, divided by the Meuse into two distinct parts, and unable to combine their operations, we fear that the inhabitants of the Netherlands will not long keep the field, unless they are supported by foreign assistance.

They are without artillery as well as without a chief, and have no fortrets to retire into after a defeat; while the enemy have every where strong places to receive them in case of a disaster.

The example of La Vendee is by no means conclusive in regard to Belgium. The war in La Vendee was a civil war, and the Vendeans had numerous partizans among the troops sent against them. But the insurrection in Belgium is the revolt of a conquered country against the conquering nation; it is the struggle of despair against the pride of foreign soldiers, anxious to assert the splendor of their triumphs. Had a similar insurrection broken out in any part of the ancient possessions of France, most of the troops would have refused to fight, and the revolt, originating from a general cause, would have spread all over France.

There is only one power able to give the insurgents in the Netherlands an efficacious assistance, and so strike a decisive blow against the Directory. If 6000 foot, 2000 horse, arms, and artillery were to penetrate from the side of Wezel in the heart of the revolted provinces, the whole country extending from the Rhine to the sea, between ancient France and Holland would rise upon the French, and the sovereignty over Belgium would perhaps become the reward of its deliverer.—The power to which we allude is obviously the king of Prussia; but here a question must arise, whether the emperor, the former sovereign of Belgium, could look upon such a movement with indifference; and it is perhaps in this mutual jealousy, existing between the Houses of Austria and Brandenburg, that the fatal delay of which we complain, originates, and which, if not speedily superceded by a more liberal policy, it will be in vain to attempt the DELIVERANCE OF EUROPE.

Extract of a letter from Baltinglass, December 13.

"Saturday last being the Fair-day of this town, proved a melancholy one indeed. As several of the loyal inhabitants of this neighbourhood were at Strohan, between this town and Stratford, on their return home they were pursued by a party of the rebels, who taking advantage of the eighty-ninth regiment being under orders to march the following morning, attacked, and I am sorry to say, killed seven of them; one a gallant lad named Maginnes, a member of capt. Saunders's corps, was pursued by them to his father's house, and most barborously murdered in his mother's arms. Two soldiers of the 89th, who had walked a little way out of the town, were way-laid and shot in a most inhuman manner; they and the other victims were this day buried with military honors. All this happened so early as three or four o'clock in the evening. The night proved nearly as melancholy as the day, save that I have not yet heard of any more murders, though the worst is to be expected. The rebels then went to the house of Mr. Wilson, who is serjeant in Mr. Saunders's corps, destroyed every thing of value in his house, and in the wantonness of mischief, cut the throats of all his fowl, scattered about all his flour, tea and sugar on the floor, mixed it with glass, and trampled it under their feet, to prevent it from being of any use. Last night they went to Stephen Wilson's, of Baronstown, burnt his house to the ground, and destroyed his haggart, which was worth upwards of 400l. and were then proceeding to his brother's, when a party of the dragoons quartered at Timolin came on them and obliged them to retreat. Capt. Rives, Gen. Dundas's aid-de-camp, was yesterday fired at from behind an hedge. Capt. Saunders and two other gentlemen riding near the glen of Imail, were some days ago fired on from behind an hedge, but very fortunately received no damage. In short, there is scarcely a day or night passes that we do not hear of some murder or robbery being committed, and unless something is immediately done for this unhappy country, I know not where it may end. Surely the system of forbearance has been tried long enough!"

THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 21.

Yesterday arrived, and fired a salute, the armed ship MANCHESTER, of 20 guns, 72 days from London. By this ship, we have received "The Old Englishman & Anti Jacobin Examiner" and "Lloyd's Evening Post," to December 26, from which papers the following articles are extracts.

LONDON, December 26.

Captain Gifford and Lieutenant Jones will each receive 500l. for bringing the official news of the taking of Minorca; the usual present given when the guns fire on receiving accounts of important successes.

Minorca is a considerable island in the Mediterranean Sea, lying 50 miles to the north west of the island of Majorca, being the least of the Baleares. It is about 30 miles in length, and 12 in breadth, and chiefly valued for its excellent harbour. It is a mountainous country, with some fruitful vallies, where there are some excellent mules. Cindadella, is the capital, besides which there are Port Mahon, Lahor, and Mercadel. It was taken by the English in 1708, and confirmed to them by the treaty at Utrecht. The French took it 1756, after two months siege of St. Philip's Castle, but it was restored to the English by the peace of 1763. It was retaken by the Spaniards during the American war, and confirmed to them by the peace of 1783.

The declaration of war by the French against the king of Sardinia, seems to come after the business of war is done. They have been in possession of his capitol for many months, and now they determine to keep it.

The public will feel much concern in learning the serious indisposition of Lord Viscount Duncan, who has gone by easy stages, to Scotland, under the melancholy apprehension, as he himself states, of never seeing England again.

The Magistracy of Hamburgh have prohibited the Philanthropic and Theophilanthropic Societies, which met twice every week.—This is said to have arisen from the interference of the Ministers and principal Envoys of Germany.

UNION OF IRELAND.

On Tuesday last a very numerous and respectable assemblage of the Bankers and Merchants of Dublin met on the subject of an Union, when the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor being called to the chair, the following Resolutions, moved by the Right Hon. D. Latouche, and seconded by Mr. John Claudius Beresford, were unanimously agreed to:—

"Resolved, That since the renunciation of the power of Great Britain, in the year 1782, to legislate for Ireland, the commerce and posterity of this kingdom have eminently increased.

"Resolved. That we attribute these blessings, under Providence, and the gracious favour of our beloved Sovereign, to the wisdom of the Irish Parliament.

"Resolved, That we look with abhorrence on any attempt to deprive the people of Ireland of their Parliament, and thereby of their Constitutional rights and immediate power to legislate for themselves.

"Resolved, That impressed with every sentiment of loyalty to our king, and affectionate attachment to British connection, we conceive, that to agitate in the parliament a question of the legislative union between this kingdom and Great-Britain, would be highly dangerous and impolitic."

The corporation of Smiths held a meeting at their hall on Thursday last, to take into consideration, the measure of an union, when resolutions, highly disapproving of the measure, were agreed to without a dissenting voice.

At a meeting of the corporation of carpenters, held last week, similar resolutions were agreed to.

Le Souverain, Gibraltar, Nov. 27, 1797.

HEREWITH you will receive the copy of a letter from Rear-Admiral Lord Nelson, inclosing one from Captain Ball, of his Majesty's ship Alexander, with the Capitulation of the Island of Goza.

Vanguard, at Sea, Nov. 25.

MY LORD—I have the honor to transmit you a letter I received from Captain Ball, dated October 30, together with the Capitulation of the Castle of Goza, and a list of ordnance, &c. found in it; the prisoners are now embarked in the Vanguard and Minotaur till I can get a vessel to send them to France. Captain Ball, with three sail of the line, a frigate, and fire-ship, is entrusted with the blockade of Malta, in which are two sail of the line and three frigates ready for sea; and, from the experience I have had of Captain Ball's zeal, activity, and ability, I have no doubt but that in due time I shall have the honor of sending you a good account of the French in the town of Valetti.

I am, with the greatest respect,
Your Lordship's most obedient S'vt
HORATIA NELSON.
Admiral Earl of St. Vincent.

Alexander, off Malta, Oct. 30.

SIR—I have the honour to acquaint you, that the Commandant of the French troops in the Castle of Goza, signed the Capitulation the 28th inst. which you had approved. I ordered Captain Creswell, of the Marines, to take possession of it in the name of his Britannic Majesty, and his Majesty's colours were hoisted. The next day the place was delivered up in form to the Deputies of the Island, his Sicilian Majesty's colours hoisted, and he acknowledged their lawful Sovereign.

I embarked yesterday all the French officers and men who were on the island of Goza, amounting to 217.

I inclose the Articles of Capitulation, and an inventory of the arms and ammunition found in the Castle, part of which I directed to be sent to the assistance of the Maltese, who are in arms against the French. There were 3,200 sacks of corn in the Castle, which will be a great relief to the inhabitants, who are much in want of that article.

I have the honor to be, &c.
ALEX. JOHN BALL.
Rear-Admiral Sir Horatia Nelson.

ARTCILES OF CAPITULATION,
Between Alexander John Ball, Esq. Captain of his Britanic Majesty's ship Alexander, appointed to conduct the blockade of Malta, under Rear-Admiral Sir Horatio Nelson, K. B. on the part of Great-Britain, Lieutenant-Colonel Lochey, Auj. de Batt. Commander of the French troops in the Castle of Goza.

I. The French troops shall march out of the Castle of Goza, with the honors of war, and shall lay down their arms as they get out of the gate.

II. The Castle of Goza, with all the military implements and stores shall be delivered up to the British Officers appointed to take charge of them.

III. The French Officers and troops shall be protected in their persons and effects and the Officers allowed to retain their side arms; they shall be embarked immediately on board his Britannic Majesty's ships, and sent to France in transports, at the expence of the French Government.—They are not to serve against his Britannic Majesty, or his Allies, during the war, until regularly exchanged.

Rear Admiral sir Horatio Nelson, K. B. has entered into articles with the inhabitants of Goza, that if the French surrender to the British, they shall be considered as under their protection, and they will not offer them the smallest insult or molestation.

Signed, Oct. 28, 1798.

ALEX. JOHN BALL, captain of his Britannic Majesty's ship Alexander.

Capture of Rome by Gen. Mack.

All the papers of yesterday lamented that no Paris Gazettes had been received of a later date than the eighth instant. One French paper, however, we can state, was received of the nineteenth instant. It was sent over, we suppose, expresly, because it contains a very exaggerated account of the defeat of the Neapolitan army of Forty Thousand Men, by Gen. MACDONALD, with Four Thousand French! The action took place at Civita Citadella, and, consequently, after the Neapolitans were in possession of Rome.

It is affirmed, in the same paper, that the Empire has acceded to the ultimatum of the French Directory; and that PEACE was accordingly concluded at Rastadt on the 18th instant.—This intelligence is said to have reached Paris by means of the Telegraph; and, of course, must have been forwarded by express to Calais.—The treaty with the Empire, however, can have but little effect on the conduct of the leading poweres, and as little influence on the operations of the war. It has probably been concluded by the French, independently of their grand object of sowing dissensions between the Princes of the Empire and their Chief, and of violating the Germanic Constitution, for the purpose of enabling them to contract their line of attack, and to direct their principal force against Italy. One think is certain, that they will only observe it until it shall be their interest to break it.

The Emperor must certainly afford assistance to the King of Naples, who has evidently acted in concert with him; so that a war between France, on the one side, and Austria, Russia, and Naples, (to say nothing of Prussia,) on the other, seems inevitable.

Our readers will be aware, that our State of Politics was committed to the Press before we received the different articles of intelligence contained in this part of our Paper.

PARIS.

In the sitting of the 5th, the Executive Directory sent the following message to the Council of Elders:

"Citizens Representatives,

"The Court of Naples has crowned its perfidies: you see by the letters of generals Joubert and Championet, and by the copy of a letter from the Neapolitan general Mack to General Champonet, that the French troops in the Roman Republic have been attacked by the Neapolitan troops.—Thus the moderation of the French Republic only serves to increase the audacity of its enemies. The details which will be sent you will convince you that both one and the other have been carried to their height.

"Now the first care of the government will be to take measures to repel the insolent attack of a perjured court.

"The Executive Directory has likewise to declare to you, that the Court of Turin, equally perfidious, makes common cause with our enemies, and thus crowns a long train of crimes against the French Republic.

"Citizens Representatives, the Executive Directory does not dissemble that the danger is imminent; but Republican energy is still great: and if all differences of opinion now disappear, and all wishes unite, and the legislative body will second by all means in its power, the efforts of the government, the projects of the enemies of the Republic will be again confounded, and the triumph of liberty will be forever secured.

"The Executive Directory proposes to you formally to declare war against the king of Naples and the king of Sardinia."

Copy of the reply of General Mack to General Championet, dated November 24, 1798.

"Citizen General,

"I declare to you, that the army of his Sicilian Majesty, which I have the honour to command under his Majesty in person, yesterday passed the frontiers to take possession of the Roman territory, revolutionized and usurped ever since the peace of Campo Formio, and never recognized and acknowledged by his Sicilian Majesty, nor by his ally the Emperor and King.

"I require that you should, without the smallest delay, cause all the French troops stationed in the said Roman territory to retire and to evacuate the places occupied by them.

"The generals commanding the different columns of the troops of his Sicilian Majesty have the most positive orders not to recommence hostilities if the French troops shall retire on being summoned so to do, but to employ force against all opposition.

"I declare to you besides, citizen general, that I shall consider it as an act of hostility if ever the French troops set foot on the territory of the Grand Duke of Tuscany.

"Expecting your answer, Sir, without the smallest delay, I expect you will have the goodness to send back Major Reischach, whom I have the honour to dispatch to you, in four hours at farthest after the receipt of my letter.

"The reply ought to be positive and categorical, both to the demand as to the evacuation of the Roman State, and to that which requires the French troops never again to set foot on the Tuscan territory.

"An answer in the negative will be considered as a declaration of war, and his Sicilian majesty will enforce by arms, the just demands which I now make to you in his name."

After these pieces had been read, the Council of Five Hundred adopted a resolution, that war should be declared against the kings of Naples and Sardinia.

This resolution was immediately sent to the Council of Elders, which approved it, and passed it into a law.

Both deliberations were adopted in a Secret committee, agreeable to the 334th article of the Constitution.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
March 20th, 1799.

SIR,

TO suppress the insurrection now existing in the counties of Northampton, Bucks and Montgomery, in the state of Pennsylvania, in opposition to the laws of the United States, the President has thought it necessary to employ a Military Force, to be composed in part of such of the Militia of Pennsylvania, whose situation and state of preparation will enable them to march with promptitude. The corps of Militia first desired on this occasion are the troops of Cavalry belonging to this city, and one troop from each of the counties of Philadelphia, Bucks, Chester, Montgomery and Lancaster: These troops I have the honor to request your Excellency will order to hold themselves in readiness to march on or before the 28th instant, under the command of Brigadier General MACPHERSON.

I have the honor to be,
With the greatest respect,
Your Excellency's most obedient and humble Servant,
JAMES M'HENRY.

His Excellency
Gov. THOMAS MIFFLIN.

SIR,

THE Secretary of War has this moment communicated to me, the President's intention to employ a Military Force, in suppressing the insurrection now existing in the counties of Northampton, Bucks, and Montgomery, with a request that the Troops of Cavalry belonging to this city, and a troop from each of the counties of Philadelphia, Bucks, Chester, Montgomery and Lancaster, may be ordered to hold themselves in readiness to march on, or before, the 28th inst. under the command of Brigadier General Macpherson.

You will, therefore, immediately issue General Orders for complying with the President's request; and communicate, by express, with the commanding officers of the several corps. As soon as the troops are ready to march, you will make your report to me; sending the returns of the officers, from time to time, as you receive them.

I am, Sir,
Your most obedient servant,
THOS. MIFFLIN.

of the Militia of Pennsylvania.

GENERAL ORDERS.

Philadelphia, March 20, '99.

THE following corps of CAVALRY are to hold themselves in readiness to march on or before the 28 instant:

Captain Dunlap's, Captain Singer's, Captain Morrell's, Captain Leiper's, } of the city of Philadelphia.
Captain Lesher's, of the county of Philadelphia.
Captain Sims's, of the county of Bucks.
Captain Taylor's, of the county of Chester.
Captain Montgomery's, of the county of Lancaster.
Captain Kennedy's, of the county of Montgomery.

The officers commanding the above troops of Cavalry will make report to the Adjutant General as soon as their respective corps are in readiness to march.

By order of the Commander in Chief.
PETER BAYNTON,
Adjutant General of the Militia of Pennsylvania.

The real state of the insurrection in Northampton is not as yet ascertained. The voluntary surrender of three individuals is no certain indication of a general disposition to submit to the laws; and it ought to be remarked, that those three are of the number who at first peaceably yielded to the process of the marshall. The armed force who had the audacity to rescue the prisoners from the custody of the marshal, have not, it is believed, evinced any disposition to surrender.
